The City of Foster City, its Environmental Sustainability Task Force and the County of San Mateo invite you to:

Creating Energy Smart Homes:

The Contractor Edition

Attention Residential Contractors and Construction Professionals in San Mateo County!

Rapidly evolving building ordinances in the Bay Area are requiring construction professionals to incorporate measures that specifically address energy efficiency in the home.

State policy goals are driving this focus on residential energy efficiency, which is being supported by local training programs for contractors and financial incentives for homeowners.

Stay ahead of these trends in the construction industry and distinguish your business from the pack!

Attend this FREE Event to :

- Become familiar with home performance and building science standards.
- Learn what incentives and financing are available to homeowners to make home energy improvements (and how you can offer these to your current and future clients.)
- Hear success stories of contractors that have already expanded their business into the home performance sector.
- Learn about upcoming training certification opportunities that are at the foundation of these new business developments.
- Hear from speakers from the following organizations:

Wednesday, July 20, 2011

7:45am: Networking

8:15- 9:30am: Presentations

Foster City Recreation Center
Mist Room
650 Shell Blvd
Foster City, CA, 94404

Coffee and Refreshments Provided

Questions/RSVP:
gogreen@fostercity.org
(650) 286-3291