Subject: Please build housing

Hi,

I'm Jason Scheirer, resident of Burlingame, employed in San Francisco. I'd really appreciate it (and so would my quality of life) if you'd allow the construction of more housing in the Baylands. I think it would be good for the entire Bay Area. I think trying to maximize tax revenues is something of a perverse incentive over providing living human beings a place to live, and from what I have heard tax revenues are driving the decision so far.

I'd buy a condo in Brisbane and I'd be a great resident. I'm even willing to go along with some 'creative' method of recouping some of the property tax v. sales tax revenue difference to keep the budget balanced.

Thanks!
